Promoting excellence in music education

Books

CMEA books focus on the connection between research and practice in music education. The biennial series, Research to Practice, also sets as its mission the creation of books on topics of practical relevance to music teachers internationally.

EXPLORING SOCIAL JUSTICE: HOW MUSIC EDUCATION MIGHT MATTER

$30.00 - published in 2009

IN CELEBRATION OF CMEA/ACME 50TH ANNIVERSARY

The twenty-seven contributors to this book are professors, teachers, and students representing all parts of Canada, as well as the USA, Brazil, Norway, Finland, and South Africa. They wrestle with the meaning and practice of social justice in and through music and education. ISBN 978-0-9812038-0-5

LISTEN TO THEIR VOICES: RESEARCH AND PRACTICE IN EARLY CHILDHOOD MUSIC

$30.00 - published in 2007

This text marks the third volume in Research to Practice: A Biennial Series edited by Lee Bartel and published by the Canadian Music Educators Association. This book features 21 chapters by 30 authors from around the world. The foreword is written by internationally acclaimed arts educator, Liora Bresler. Chapters are divided into four parts: learning from young children, issues of culture and spirit, links between music and other domains, and possible new directions in music education for young children. ISBN 0-920630-13-6

QUESTIONING THE MUSIC EDUCATION PARADIGM

$30.00 - published in 2004

Twenty leading music educators question how we teach, what and for what we teach, what is expected of teachers and how we teach them, whom we should be teaching, and our assumptions and structures. ISBN 0-920630-90-1

CREATIVITY AND MUSIC EDUCATION

$30.00 - published in 2002

Seventeen leading educators, composers and scholars from around the world explore and explain creative processes for teaching music. A compelling case is made for including creativity as part of the music classroom, from kindergarten to teacher education. Practical solutions and time-tested practices are provided.
